FTSE Xinhua Quarterly Index Review Results

BEIJING, April 11, 2007 FTSE Xinhua Index (FXI), the independent China index company, announced today the results of its quarterly index review, effective start of trading day, Monday, April 23.

In the FTSE/Xinhua China 25 Index, China Communications Construction will be added to the index, and Cosco Pacific will be deleted. DaTang International Power and Guangshen Railway are to be included in the FTSE/Xinhua China A50 index, while Qinghai Salt Lake Potash and Tsingtao Brewing will be deleted. There are to be no changes to the FTSE/Xinhua China B 35 index.

Alongside these indices, the quarterly index review includes changes to the FTSE Xinhua 200, 400 and Small Cap indices. Full details of all entries and exits for these indices can be obtained here.

The FTSE Xinhua indices are reviewed quarterly in January, April, July and October by the independent FTSE Xinhua Index Committee, a group of local and international independent financial market experts. The index series is widely regarded as the leading measure of the China market by domestic and international investors and is used as the basis of a set of Exchange Traded Funds (ETFs), and derivative products on exchanges around the world.
