Industry Classification Benchmark (ICB)

A universal view of the global equity market

ICB is a globally utilized standard for the categorization and comparison of companies by industry and sector. The official sector classification system used across FTSE Russell's equity indexes, ICB is designed to facilitate every step of the investment process, from reporting, to research, to product design.

Approximately 85,000 equity securities are classified according to ICB's four-tiered structure, which serves as the basis for either top-down or bottom-up analysis, stock selection, and performance measurement. The Industry and Supersector categories are designed for sector-based investment strategies, while additional granularity is provided at the Sector and Subsector levels.

Investor-focused

ICB was launched in 2005 and enhanced in 2019 with the integration of the Russell Global Sectors (RGS) classification scheme and additional structural enhancements.

A market-engaged governance process and a proactive, thorough maintenance schedule ensure the ICB framework remains relevant and companies are classified accurately.

Comprehensive

Coverage that extends well beyond the FTSE Russell equity index universe, with approximately 85,000 equity securities from over 80 countries and 150 active exchanges globally.

Unbiased

Rules based, transparent classification methodology that utilizes revenue source data and other publicly available information.¹
